

W hile other schools spend their time and energy preparing students for college or for a job, we spend our resources preparing students for life. Prepare yourself for a pleasant surprise... a school where students love to learn, where they're encouraged to wonder out loud, challenged to question until they understand, and required to do more than learn.

Prepare yourself for Grace Prep!

Grace Prep's

40

points of Grace

1 We believe that kids need a creative, cool, and challenging environment to spread their wings and to learn the disciplines of life.

2. We believe that helping your child discover his or her passion will fuel spectacular achievement.

3. We believe that developing an intelligent faith and intimate friendship with Jesus will create lifelong fulfillment.

24. We believe that no sin is too large to forgive and that no sin is too small to ignore.

4. We believe that families are too busy and that schools waste lots of time on busy work and homework and justify it in the name of academic rigor.

25. We believe in extravagant grace and have known its beauty. We believe that it's messy and wonderfully unjust. It gives us what we don't deserve.

5. We believe in academic rigor.

6. We believe that schools should be efficient enough to teach your kids in the 30-40 hours per week of class time.

26. We abhor internal politics, superficiality, unnecessary secrets, and constant spin.

7. We believe that late afternoons in childhood are meant for riding bikes, playing ball, and hanging out with close friends.

27. We believe in truth that confronts and we're ok with being yelled at behind closed doors.

8. We believe that evenings are for families and reading and rest.

28. We believe that transparency sets us free and helps us love others more, not less.

9. We believe that history is more exciting and easier to remember when you're in Boston, Gettysburg or Valley Forge.

29. We believe that on nice days it might be better to have class outside.

10. We believe Spanish is easier to learn in Mexico than in a school classroom.

30. We believe in leadership that is subjective and considers the uniqueness of kids.

11. We believe that most students go to college with no idea of who they are and what they want to be.

31. We believe in fighting every battle that needs to be fought and leaving no one behind, no matter how broken.

12. We believe it is the school's privilege to help them discover their spiritual gifts and to show them who God meant them to be.

32. We believe there is at least one kid in every class that needs special attention and love in spite of his behavior.

13 We believe that "why do we have to learn this stuff?" is a very good question.

14. We believe that a school cannot teach the whole truth to students if it doesn't acknowledge Jesus Christ as the foundation for all Truth.

33. We believe that same kid will be transformed by the teacher who finds his passion.

15. We believe that parents are responsible for their children and have the right to control their educational experience and goals.

34. We believe teachers work hard during the year, but have a great deal in the summer.

16. We believe that teachers are flooded with paperwork and bureaucracy instead of resources and support.

35. We believe modesty is a matter of the girl's heart and the guy's mind and were committed to protecting both.

17. We believe parents would have a hard time sitting on those hard school chairs.

36. We believe great schools can afford great sports programs.

18. We believe students are capable of entrepreneurship and student-led businesses and not just selling hoagies.

37. We believe money follows excellence, excellence follows vision, and visionaries must follow God.

19. We believe students should learn to avoid debt, pay cash and read the fine print.

38 We believe that families that can't afford Christian education sometimes need it most.

20. We think they should understand God's view of sex so they can anticipate the blessing.

39. We believe one of the greatest joys in life is finding out that it's a snow day.

21. We think parents have the right to know what is going to be taught before it's taught.

22. We believe not all kids are meant for college and that schools should value them as much as God does.

40. We believe in God-sized tasks and believe Grace Prep is one of them.

23. We believe that legalism is the easy way out and is employed by weak leaders.
